ASPIRING NHS FINANCE LEADERS NATIONAL TALENT POOL APPLICATIONS CLOSE MONDAY!

It is your last chance to apply for the 2018 Talent Pool with applications closing on Monday 12 February 2018! Developing future finance leaders has been identified as a key priority in the FFF work plan. Working with our partner organisation, HFMA, the national talent pool was established in 2017 to support aspiring finance leaders, who are ready now or in the very near future, to become finance directors or chief finance officers. The aim is to create a diverse pool of talent that improves the number and quality of applicants for future finance leadership vacancies. The 2017 Talent Pool is already proving successful, with two members having secured Director of Finance roles.

Members of the talent pool will benefit from a tailored package that meets their individual development needs and may include one-to-one coaching and mentoring, participation in action learning sets, secondments, shadowing and interview and presentation skills training. This will:

- Broaden your understanding of the responsibilities and expectations of a corporate director
- Enhance personal resilience and robustness
- Increase strategic understanding of leading change in your organisation
- Develop your ability to build collaborative relationships

Connecting and Developing Aspiring Finance Leaders across the NHS

The Future-Focused Finance regional networks have been set up to support the career progression of NHS finance professionals who aspire to be NHS finance leaders in the next 2 to 3 years. The regional networks connect aspiring finance leaders (in person and virtually) and provide them with opportunities to take part in regional and national events, webinars and networking opportunities. There are four networks, one in each region as follows: North, Midlands & East, London and South.

Working closely with HFMA and the Skills Development Network, the regional networks aim to develop individuals, develop a talent pipeline and feed into the National Talent Pool.
