This event will focus on exploring practical and beneficial ways that you can start making a difference and influencing positive change. The agenda will include plenary sessions from D&I experts and national leaders, plus a range of practical workshops, with delegates being able to choose those that they wish to attend.

The Finance Leadership Council and FFF encourage finance directors to allow staff members from all bands to attend this event, in particular those colleagues in lower banded jobs who don't often get the opportunity to have their voices heard at national events.
